At the suggestion and with the endorsement of members of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and of other historical organizations, this work has been undertaken by Lyman Horace Weeks and Edwin M. Bacon, editors, and the Society Americana, publishers. For many years past a digest of this character has been contemplated and has been keenly desired by historians and others. The large expense, the great amount of labor, and the considerable financial risk necessarily involved in the adequate and satisfactory accomplishing of such a work have heretofore been unsurmountable obstacles in the way of attempting it. The project is now entered upon under favorable conditions and with a sound financial backing that will enable it to be carried out to a successful termination. As will be seen by the accompanying notes of approval on pages 21, 22 and 23 of this prospectus, the enterprise has the approbation of librarians, scholars and others most interested in the preservation of all that pertains to the domestic affairs and public doings of the American founders. The importance of such a compilation is indisputable, and in the experience of investigators is constantly emphasized by...
