Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A School System as an Educational Laboratory To this Bulletin its projectors at Harvard and Newton attach special significance. It records the beginnings of an enterprise in which the Harvard Division of Education hopes in part to realize one of its fundamental aims - the solution of educational problems through research in the schools. The program of investigation the Bulletin presents is suggestive; and as this program is gradually elaborated and carried out either in Newton or elsewhere, it promises to yield results of objective value. Of equal importance is the cooperative scheme by which it is proposed that these results be reached. The study of school problems is not solely a function of university investigators, but of all teachers; and that teachers share the scientific labor which educational progress now demands is essential both for the sake of the school and for the sake of the teachers themselves. Dr. Learned has himself traced, in a study about to be issued by the Harvard University Press, the growth of teachers in Germany, as a class,...
